

GOVERNOR JOSH SHAPIRO

September 1, 2023

Partnership for Better Health
Carlisle, Pennsylvania

Greetings:

It is my honor to join Partnership for Better Health to recognize September 2023 as Health Equity Month.

Health equity exists when all people have fair and just access, opportunity, and resources to achieve their highest potential for health. Achieving health equity involves addressing health disparities. Many organizations have worked honorably to identify and support communities and populations impacted by health inequities. Proper healthcare should be provided for everyone no matter what. This month seeks to deepen the national conversation about the disparities in healthcare access and outcomes within the United States and amplify community-driven policy, research, and care solutions. I commend all those helping to raise awareness of health inequity, and I applaud their devotion to improving the health and well-being of all Pennsylvanians. I am certain that the efforts of these individuals will continue to highlight the importance of this critical issue.

On behalf of all citizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, I am honored to recognize September 2023 as Health Equity Month. Please accept my best wishes for continued success.

GIVEN under my hand and the Seal of the Governor, at the City of Harrisburg, this first day of September two thousand twenty-three, the year of the Commonwealth the two hundred forty-eighth.

Governor Josh Shapiro
